There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure, it is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address:

F. J. CHENEY & CO.,
Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by all Druggists, at 75 cents.

They are talking of John L. Sullivan for Congress. He would feel at home when he struck the eyes and nose.—Yonkers Statesman.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. For sale by Dr. R. H. HOLLIDAY, Druggist, Clinton, and Dr. J. R. SMITH, Druggist, Mt. Olive, N. C.

Mrs. Fignon—Slim waists are no longer considered fashionable. Mr. Fignon—Indeed! Well, now, I really thought the slim waist had come to stay.—Town Topics.

LOCALS.

—Cotton worth 10 cents.

—Court next week. His Honor, Judge Graves, presiding.

—Mr. R. F. Boykin has placed a bean bloom on a table. Who can beat it?

—The Wilmington and Fayetteville Presbytery were in session last week.

—Special drill of the Sampson Light Infantry to-night—every Thursday night.

—Rev. A. A. Watson, Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina will preach in St. Paul's church next Sunday in the morning and at night.

—Mr. F. R. Cooper's able series of articles on the "Monetization of Land" will be continued in next issue.

—We hope, "Me" will write again. He (he or she) is almost equal to Sampson's Bill Arp in pointing a moral and giving whole instruction.

—The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry has resigned from the State Guard. Haven't learned what the trouble was.

—The recent frosts have done much more damage than was first supposed. In many places beans and even corn have been killed.

—We intended to give the list of delegates attending the Sabbath School Convention, but the Secretary failed to furnish us with the copy.

—Those who have not registered and who desire to do so to enable them to vote in the next municipal election will call at the Mayor's office any day before the 6th of May.

—The Wilmington Messenger says: The Rev. B. F. Marable, D. D., one of the ablest ministers of the Presbyterian Church in the South, officiates at the First Presbyterian church today during morning services.

—Green, Wayne and Sampson counties now compose the Sixth Division of the Fourth District of the Internal Revenue Service. John D. Grimsley, of Snow Hill, the Collector for this division is in town.

—Every stranger who comes to Clinton is struck with our pretty and progressive town. The clean streets, thickening shades and the many improvements being made makes it a beauty. But a little more paint would add wonderfully.

—The entertainment proposed by the young ladies of Clinton for next Friday night, for the benefit of the Sampson Light Infantry, has been postponed one week to Friday night, May the 2nd. This is the day of the regular monthly drill of the company.

—The Municipal Election will be held Monday week. Why not hold a Democratic caucus in the Court House same night next week and nominate a ticket? This is what the caucus is for, and if it is proper to use the caucus in making other Democratic nominations, it certainly is proper and highly necessary to do so in this case.

—For want of time and space we have been unable to continue the account of the Farmers' institute held in Clinton. The discussion of Silos and Ensilage, as given in last issue of THE CAUCASIAN has attracted considerable attention and interest. The News and Observer, and several other papers, have clipped the article entire. The discussion will be continued, with other of the Institute's proceedings, in next issue.

—We welcome the Clinton Christian Leaflet. It is a neat four column, four page sheet, edited by Rev. C. P. Jerome and published every Wednesday. The first number appeared yesterday. The editor in salutatory says:—With this issue we begin the publication of the Christian Leaflet. Its columns will be devoted mainly to the interests of Methodism in the Wilmington District but on moral questions they will be open for the discussion of any subject of general interest. Hoping that it will meet the approval of its readers and fill an humble place as a Christian educator, we send the little Leaflet forth on its mission of love and good will to all. Sampson has now two newspapers.

—Mr. D. B. Nicholson on yesterday had occasion in some professional business to examine the old Ledger used by Mr. Thos. Lee when in the mercantile business in Clinton. He called our attention to one of the names in the Ledger under date of 1851, it was "Bold Robin Hood." Our readers will remember that this was the name of the famous English outlaw, the gallant and generous vandal of Sherwood forest during the reign of Richard I. We inquired about the Sampson edition of bold Robin and found that many of our present citizens knew him. He was a good blacksmith and there was nothing appropriate in the name.

Gravel Hill Notes.
Miss Kate Pendleton, who has been conducting an excellent school at Hickory Grove school house closed for the farm season Tuesday of last week. The pupils were given an enjoyable candy boiling at the school house that night. She left for her home, Louisa C. H., Wednesday morning.

Attention Sampson Light Infantry.
You are hereby commanded to appear at armory, at 10 o'clock Friday morning, the 25th inst. Every member is expected to be present.

By order of Captain commanding.
M. HANSTEIN, 1st Sergt.

All Through Sampson.

What Sampsonians are Doing and Saying.

Send us the news from your township for this column. Every subscriber to this paper has a right and is requested to contribute items of news in "his" neighborhood for this column. We will not publish your name unless you desire it.

MINO.

The school is going on at Mingo Academy under the management of Prof. Wm. Bland, it numbers about 90 students.

The Philomathean Literary Society at the school is doing good work. The boys have an open discussion every Saturday before the second Sunday.

Mr. Guss Yarborough delivered an address on temperance at Wesley Chapel not long since.

Mr. J. T. Naylor has his house nearly done and he is a single man yet, but hope he will not remain much longer in this awkward position? He thinks that "it is not good for man to be alone."

Married, at the residence of the bride's father, Jessie Wilson, on the 20th of April 1890, Mr. Wiley Hargrove to Miss Sarah Wilson, C. H. McLamb, Esq. officiating.

AMICUS.

TAYLOR'S BRIDGE.
We are pleased to announce that Rev. D. B. Clayton will preach at Red Hill church on the 1st Sabbath in May.

WESTBROOKS.
Mr. W. L. Godwin took down a potato hill a few days ago and found a mole and killed six moles.

Miss Bettie McLamb is very sick with LaGrippe. Little Lura McLamb, daughter of Wm. B. and Kitsey McLamb died on the 18th inst., aged about 9 months.

There will be a great deal of cotton planted on this season.

Mr. Isham McLamb's horse fell down the other day and snapped its shoulder very bad and will be some time before it will be able to work again if ever.

HALLS.
Mr. Marion Butler's speech at Keenleys last Saturday was earnest, able and very instructive. He discussed the nature, operation and workings of banks, the tariff, trusts, corners, etc., with such force and clearness and simplicity that even those who had never given such matters much thought were greatly interested.

The frost Saturday and Sunday nights has done great damage to crops. Corn is badly injured, also Irish potatoes and beans.

Farmers are very much disheartened. A few have planted cotton, but the most of us will wait until the last of this month. There will be but very little fruit, I think there will be some doubt about your getting that good high corn from T. A. H's.

Miss Nellie Higdon returned from Florida last Friday, after an absence of seven months. She speaks in very glowing terms of the Land of Flowers and the people. She visited St. Augustine and the sub-Tropical Exposition at Jacksonville.

REX.

The farmers of this township are very busy planting at present. Spring is about to put on her beautiful colors and all nature is really becoming joyous. The birds are singing their sweet songs and the countless flowers are sending out a real volume of wholesome order.

Clement Sunday school numbers larger than usual for the season. The church has just been ornamented by a handsome belfry, which contains a bell manufactured by the Buck Eye Bell Foundry of Ohio. Its sweet tones call the children from every "hook and corner" for a distance of 5 miles. Clement Model School has enrolled 51 pupils this session. At the last meeting of the members of the Literary Society, they elected Mr. Marion Butler, the brainy editor of THE CAUCASIAN to deliver the annual address before the Society on the 30th of May.

The society selected for the close is: "Which is the more admirable the old or the new South? The Society will be represented by talented young men. The musical concert, at the close, will be a treat.

The residence of Dr. T. C. Bullock is nearing completion.

Mr. McCoscal Bagley has just commenced a handsome dwelling in less than 1 mile of Clement school building.

PUPIL.
Married, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Patsie H. Hall, on the 20th inst., at 11 o'clock, Mr. O. T. Williams to Miss Lucie J. Hall. The attendants were as follows: Mr. J. T. Williams and Miss Ida J. Autry, Mr. C. H. Hall and Miss Bettie A. Hair, Mr. Chas. Williams and Miss S. J. Daniel, Mr. N. E. Williams and Miss M. E. Hall, Mr. A. E. Royal and Miss E. L. Lockeyman, Mr. A. J. Matthis and Miss S. J. Williams; M. O. Jackson, Esq., officiating.

LISBON.
The huckleberry crop, Big Blues, are not injured by the recent cold weather. Sampson's Blues are hard to hinder.

Garland is growing almost like "Jack's Beans."

There are four stores, two dwellings, a turpentine distillery, the ware-house, lumber hauled for a Baptist church, and the Presbyterians are thinking of building a church there also. Rev. Henry Carter, near Garland, is erecting a nice dwelling.

The people in every direction around

Garland "has the get up and get" about them, cutting straight roads, building new fences, cleaning grounds etc.

A gentleman passing through (Helltown) as it has been called, saw so many new roads and improvements in every way until the thought he must be lost, but no, the same people were there, surely no other portion of the county has improved more in the last six months. It has no right to ever be again called by its historic "old" name.

On Saturday night the 5th a very enjoyable fish fry was given at Mr. Isaac Boykins.

Mr. Editor, don't think because you do not get the Lisbon items every week that the people are asleep, they are only too busy at work.

"SUNFLOWER."

PERSONALS.

Mrs. W. H. Williams, of Duplin, is visiting in town.

Miss Emma Faison has been visiting Miss Anna Bizzell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Johnson were in Wilmington last week attending the Presbytery.

Mrs. Leslie Clute is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larkins, of Wilmington.

Miss Pauline Thornton, of Fayetteville, and Mrs. John Williams, of Cumberland, were in town a day this week.

His Honor Judge Boykin is spending the week at home. He held court last week in Franklin and will hold Nash court next week.

Mr. George M. Matthis were down to Wilmington last week and appeared before the Presbytery and was accepted as a candidate for the gospel ministry.

Mr. N. B. Broughton, of the firm of Edwards & Broughton, Raleigh, and Rev. J. A. Speight, of the Biblical Recorder, gave our office a call while in town last week attending the Sunday School Convention. Sorry we were absent and did not have the pleasure of seeing them.

Odd Fellows Anniversary.

Next Saturday, April 26th is the 48th anniversary of the establishing of the organization in America. The event will be celebrated by every lodge in the United States. In an old copy of the odd-fellows' Magazine, an odd fellow is described as "like a fox for cunning, a dove for tameness, a lamb for innocence, a lion for boldness, a bee for industry and a sheep for usefulness." The Institution originated in Manchester, England, in 1812. Chambers' English Encyclopedia says "these lodges are secret fraternities, humble imitations of Freemasonry—adopting a similar system of initiatory rites, phreology and organization—instituted for social convivial purposes and extending charitable assistance to members.

Warsaw Items.

(Editorial Correspondent.)
WARSAW, April 21.
We are glad to learn that the Warsaw High School is in prosperous condition. Every one speaks in the highest terms of Prof. Merritt, the clever and talented young principal. The new Methodist and Presbyterian churches are nearing completion. The designs of both are new, modern and tasty, and when finished will be ornaments to the little town.

The Strawberry farms are doing well, considering the damaging hail and the recent severe frosts. By the way the place has the honor of a new variety of berries, which is considered by competent judges to be superior to any yet known for the southern truckers. It is christened the "Murray Seedling" being discovered by Mrs. S. E. Murray. It is supposed to be a cross between the Newman and the Crescent, and is from 3 to 4 years earlier than the berry yet known to the place. It is earlier and firmer than the Newman and is more vigorous and prolific than the Crescent, thus combining in a much higher degree, the good points of both. Being a seedling, it is not a self-fertilizer and Mrs. Murray is experimenting to find which perfect plant used as fertilizer will give the best result. The good lady has a bonanza in this plant, she has been offered $5.00 for a single plant, but refuses to take it. We eat several of the berries, the flavor is delicious and the color is rich red all through.

The King of True Metal.

MR. M. BUTLER: Your valuable paper has always had the ring of the true metal. The Caucasian, race or least those who have tone and character unimpeachable and no politics but pure Democracy. This you have kept to the letter. You have proven in every issue that you are the farmers' friend, the friend of him who is beset on every hand by base impositions, and one whose rights have been shamefully neglected by the Government, and therefore has been forced to try to protect himself. The Alliance offers protection as far as it is able under partisan Republican rule, and it remains for all to be true to the order and vote for none but an educated, honest member, to get their rights. Go on in your good work, and may God's blessings attend you.

W. J. CRADDOCK.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS
Cures Indigestion, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Malassimilation, and General Debility. Physicians recommend it. All dealers sell it. Genuine has trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper.

"ME" BEEN VISITING.

Two Pictures Drawn From Life as it Surrounds Us.

[Special to THE CAUCASIAN.]
I went over to cousin Jim's the other day to pay him a visit, the whole family met me at the gate, invited me in, and I never was more highly entertained. Every one seemed to be perfectly happy and it was an intellectual feast to hear them on the different topics of conversation. They are not divided and sub-divided by sectarianism, but their religion is love to God and man. Their physician, they carry in their mind by practicing the laws of health. Cousin Jim took me around to show me his farm. He showed me, first, four negro residences that were vacated. I asked him if he did all his work himself; he replied: I saw this time coming, and four years ago I turned off all of my tenants, turned out all my farm except fifty acres, sold all my stock except two mules, four milch cows, and ten hogs. Since then I and my two boys (what time they were not at school) have been at work on those fifty acres, and I made more clear money on my farm last year, than I ever did in one year while I had tenants. So filled with enthusiasm, I left Cousin Jim's, determined to call on Mr. Thomas to try to show him the better way of living. I rode up to the gate and hailed. Mrs. Thomas opened the door, told me to come in, closed the door, and returned. I hitched my horse and started in just as a black mouth cow found me out; with considerable effort I got in the door just in time to save my pants. I inquired after the health of the family, Mr. Thomas replied: we are not well sir; the devil is loose again, and he is making my place here headquarters. The negroes are all leaving, and what I am to do I don't know. I haven't got a rail split and a ditch cleaned out. I have one negro boy and one woman, with five little children not able to work, to tend my farm. The boy is a very good hand, but I am not allowed to correct him, if I do he will leave me. I had to hire my son out to clerk to get money to pay the negro, and he lacks two dollars of saying enough to pay him, and the woman, she can't make enough to feed herself and children if the land belonged to her. Besides, somebody has got to cook, for I'll go to hell before my wife and daughters shall cook. The devil has got into every old cow in the neighborhood, just as soon as one is turned out, she makes for my field, and my neighbors are too mean to take them out.

Believing that it would be casting pearls before swine to attempt to show him the error of his way, I left, and decided to inform my brethren of his way, lest they also fall into that place of torment.

Respectfully, "ME."

Somebody in The Breakers.

(Special Correspondent.)
Mr. Editor, allow me a remark, not as a reply to your special correspondent, for I see nothing to reply to, save a bit of jargon; but I wish to make a polite humiliating bow, a true confession and quit the field.

I like to discuss principles, but not men. My motto is "abstain from all appearance of evil." Your correspondent thought when I became better acquainted with him, I would be ashamed of my hasty conclusion. I am not ashamed of my conclusion; but to say ashamed is no name for how I felt after reading what I guessed a reply to my remarks. I was completely abashed, confused, disconcerted, bewildered, humiliated, mortified, embarrassed, uneasy, astounded, stupefied, puzzled, mystified, depressed and degraded, all because I saw I had acted like a rat-terrier trying to devour a lion. I am in the attitude of the dog barking at the moon, and have acted about as foolishly (though with the best intention) as the mountaineer who went deer hunting; soon after reaching his stand, he heard the dogs coming in full tilt; in a few moments he saw the animal bounding across the woods; he fired, and behold he had killed his neighbor's red-calf. In his excitement he did not know a red-calf from a deer.

I did not intend shooting a man, but to protect the boys, and as a reward I am branded a tramp, far behind the times, ridiculed for being born poor, and the public is asked "can any good come out of Nazareth?" Yet I am abundantly rewarded, I got my name in the paper and had now as the beef stake said to the cook I'm done. So my dear friend, of short acquaintance fare the well, I am demolished.

JACKSON, GA., April 12, 1890.
MR. MARION BUTLER,
Editor CAUCASIAN,
Clinton, N. C.

Dear Sir: I enclose you P. O. for $2.00 on my subscription to your valuable paper, if this is not enough to cover any indebtedness to you please notify me, and the balance will be remitted at once. I always like to hear from dear old Sampson, my native home, and often think of the happy days spent while at school in your lovely little town. May THE CAUCASIAN, which certainly grows better, ever prosper and be instrumental in building up my native county. You are moving nobly in that direction now.

Yours truly,
C. G. FENNELL.

How do you like the new TELEGRAM?

Wake up! take up!! stake up!!! and let us do something.

When you find dead business man you will find a dead town.

Mrs. J. R. Harrell returned home, to Kinston, last Saturday, accompanied by her sister Miss Irene Kelly.

Mrs. Gemma Pearsall after spending several weeks here with her daughter, Mrs. Robt. Williams, returned to her home at Dunn last Monday.

The farmers are at work, and if seasons are favorable, a grand harvest awaits the diligent. The expense of making this crop will be less than any made for years.

Notice the improvement of THE TELEGRAM this week. An all-home print, eight column paper, brim-full of the latest news, discussions of the leading topics and good reading matter.

Rev. W. E. Crocker, of Wake Forest, will preach in the Baptist church next Sunday at 11 A. M., and S. P. M., and not the Rev. C. J. Nelson, as was stated in THE TELEGRAM last week.

The live towns of the South are those that contain manufacturers. The more they contain the greater the life and prosperity. If our people will turn some of their capital loose and build some small enterprises our town will also prosper.

The entertainment last Friday night was well patronized. The play was given "O. K." in every particular and highly enjoyed, although it had only been about a month since the same piece, "Among the Breakers," was rendered. About $20.00 was realized.

Mr. Solomon Rouse, who lived two miles from town, was burned to death last Saturday night, together with his household and its contents. While some persons were up about one o'clock A. M. in town they saw the light but nobody knew his house was burnt until next morning when some of the neighbors discovered it, and on going to the place they found a few smoking embers, and a small heap of bones, all that was left of what was once a man—not enough left of his mortal remains to fill a two quart measure. The coroner, Dr. Tom. Hill, was telegraphed to and came down Sunday afternoon but was totally unable to judge from the remains whether murder had been committed, and as there was no apparent cause for suspicion he did not summon a jury. Just how Mr. Rouse met his death no one knows and probably never will; but as he sometimes drank to excess and was known to have had some spirits on hand Saturday afternoon it is the general supposition that he may have gotten under the influence of it and gotten into the fire or that the house caught in some way which resulted in the total destruction and sad calamity. He was 78 years old and lived all alone—having lost his wife five years ago. He would not give up the old home for a home with his son-in-law, Mr. W. D. Price, who with his wife (Mr. Rouse's only living child) had often tried to induce him to live with them. He ate at their home, a half mile from his house but always slept at the old home. Mr. Rouse was a man true to his word every time. He always spoke of himself as "the old man." He had lived in this neighborhood all his long life and was highly respected by every one who knew him. He was truly an honest man, "the noblest work of God."

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own brand of Hood's; he told me their's was just as good; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other."

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELA A. GORR, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

Book and Magazine Reviews—Quotations—General Literary Notes.

Employ your time in improving yourself by other men's writings, so you shall come easily by what others have labored hard for.

For what were things written before time were written for our learning.—St. Paul.

A Literary Curiosity.

A lady occupied a whole year in searching for and fitting the following thirty-eight lines from English and American poems. The whole reads almost as if it had been written at one time and by one author:

LIFE.

1. Why all this toil for the triumphs of an hour?

2. Life's short summer—man is but but a flower;

3. By turns we catch the fatal breath and die;

4. The cradle and the tomb, alas! so nigh;

5. To be is better far than not to be;

6. Though all man's life may seem a tragedy;

7. But light comes when might grief is dumb—

8. The bottom is but shallow whence they come.

9. Your fate is but the common fate of all;

10. Unmingled joy, here no man befalls;

11. Nature to each allots his proper sphere.

12. Fortune makes folly her peculiar care;

13. Custom does often reason overrule;

14. And throw a cruel sunshine on a fool.

15. Live well—how long or short permeat to heaven.

16. Those who forgive most shall be most forgiven.

17. Sin may be clasped so close we cannot see its face—

18. Vile intercourse where virtue has no place.

19. Then keep each passion however

dear;

20. Thou pendulum betwixt a smile and tear;

21. Her sensual sures let faithless pleasure lay;

22. With craft and skill to ruin and betray;

23. Soar not too high to fall, but stoop to rise;

24. We masters grow of all that we despise.

25. Oh, then, renounce that impious self-esteem;

26. Riches have wings, and grandeur is a dream.

27. Think not ambition wise because

'tis brave.

28. The paths of glory lead but to the grave.

29. What is ambition? 'Tis but a glorious cheat.

30. Only destructive to the brave and great.

31. What's all the gaudy glitter of a crown?

32. The way to bliss lies not on beds of down.

33. How long we live, not years but actions tell;

34. That man lives best who lives

the first life well.

35. Make, then, while yet ye may, your God your friend.

36. Whom Christians worship, yet not comprehend.

37. The trust that's given guard, and to yourself be just;

38. For live we how we may, yet die

we must.
